Looks good Rossco. Nice to be able to see the woodwork too, so you don't need to worry what's lurking under the covering.

Will you screw RC gear into it, or train the dog? ;)

Rog

heheeh Hopefully Cris, I've just covered half of the rudder in lightweight polyfibre, love glueing it down with dope....before shrinking and dope finish.
I am aiming to have both the half scale KA and the half scale 22 at Jerrildery this year, do you fancy flying the tug for me Chris?
::)

Hi Rossco

Do you have a link for the kit? Looks terrific, although with that pilot it should really be a KA9 ;D
